Services to ensure the smooth and economical Implementation of Your SYSTEMS

While your business is built on transactions between people and the business processes that those transactions set in motion, the system on which those processes run is essential to sustainable success.

The key to an effective, economical implementation is the expertise, transparency and predictability of the implementation process. With Ataway, you get a firm timeline with clearly defined milestones and consultants who put your people, processes and systems first. Implementation or upgrade of an enterprise solution should not be an expression of the consultant's identity, but an empowering experience for your business.

Ataway is a broadly certified, vendor-agnostic consultancy with labs around the world. Ataway services can be delivered onsite, through an Ataway lab in your country, or an Ataway lab offshore to provide the proximity, business hours and economy that make the most sense for your project.

ERP Implementation

Ataway provides a full range of ERP implementation services and expertise tailored to your business requirements. If you need a fast, cost-effective project with guaranteed success, an Ataway implementation is the answer.

Ataway consultants will work with you to get a clear and comprehensive picture of your business philosophy, strategy and requirements along with the role played by your legacy systems, applications, and processes. Combining that intelligence with Ataway's experience implementing ERPs in multiple industries and countries, we can guarantee that your local and international requirements and business processes will be covered by your new applications.

Global Deployment

As a truly global entity since inception, Ataway understands the many complex interactions between financial systems, local governments, business practices and other streams of interest that weave together for a successful global deployment. With experience in bringing systems and corporations to the global environment, Ataway can help you deploy seamlessly to maximize your success and lower your costs of doing international business.

Upgrade

Keeping your software current with the latest releases helps you maintain your investment, prolong the value of your system, and stay competitive with the rest of the marketplace. Ataway offers comprehensive consulting services to assist your enterprise in completing a rapid, cost-effective upgrade to the most recent version of your ERP.

Because your organization has unique needs and a distinctive set of requirements, we begin the process with a methodical assessment of your current business processes, applications and environment and determine how they will translate into the new release. Our team of upgrade specialists works with you through the technical steps and testing to ensure that the new solution will transition smoothly and meet the expectations and objectives of your company.
